

Your Leadership Reflections to Inform 2024

Yourself

What have I developed about myself? (strengths leveraged and evolved)

What has given me the greatest return?

How do I make sense of this?

What is emerging for the next step of my own development?

Your Community

How has my development impacted my community most?

How have others developed most?

What has given our community the greatest return?

What are the connections between my own development and community development?

What is emerging as the next steps for the development of my community?

Your Systems

How have the systems in my organisation developed?

What has given my organisation the greatest return?

What are the connections between the development of myself, my community and the systems?

What is emerging as the next steps for the evolution of my organisation?

Expand you capacity, evolve your community, innovate your systems.
